Bonspiel Ends Wednesday Night

There are always some outstanding games in every Bonspiel and while we haven't the ability to write them up as well as one who understands the game better we will do our best and crave your indulgence for any error or oversight.

Thursday's 6 p.m. game between G. G. Smith and Earnest Norton was a hard battle all the way through and produced good curling by both rinks Norton's rink composed of Chisholm, the Mason brothers and Earnest Norton, all green curlers, turned in a game that many of the older rinks could be proud of. Smith tied the score on the last end and on the extra end laid one, winning the game 11 12.

Two close games were played at 9 a.m. Saturday. Christenson vs. McIrvine and Hales vs. D. J. Beagle.

The Christenson, McIrvine game was hard fought with the last rocks deciding the game.

Hales and Beagle tied on the last end and in the extra frame Hales had a possible though very difficult wick and roll that would have forced Beagle to draw a port to the Button. He was a little narrow with his last rock and while

Hockey Notes

Deerfoot 0 — Arrowwood 2

A thrilling and fast brand of hockey was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd of fans at the local rink last Saturday evening when Arrowwood boys crossed sticks with the Deerfoot Indians. It was the first appearance of the Indians on local ice and many a fan was amazed at excellent hockey which they played. Appearing in neat uniforms the Deerfoot boys took the ice and in short order the game was under way, with R. Hales in charge.

The first period was scoreless, the forwards on both teams doing some excellent back-checking. The second period opened fast and Norton sniped the first counter for Arrowwood. This was followed shortly by another tally from the stick of E. Mason, who skated the length of the ice and scored unassisted. The third period was filled with action, both teams drawing several penalties. Roberts, in the Arrowwood goal made many a fine stop. The game was the best seen in Arrowwood for some time.

Arrowwood line-up: Goal, Roberts; Defence, Horning, E. Mason; Forwards, McLeod, Chisholm, Mason, Norton. McCullough, Beagle.

Guild Meets at Home of Mrs. T. T. Williams

Mrs. T. T. Williams was hostess to the Ladies' Guild on Thursday, January 14th. Devotionals were led by the President, Mrs. Mackie. The minutes of the December meeting were read and approved as well as the minutes of an executive meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Mackie on Jan. 6th. At this meeting the following appointed officers were filled: Program convener, Mrs. C. G. Taylor; Missionary convener, Mrs. V. Gilbert; Pianist, Mrs. Bishop; Reporter, Mrs. G. F. Kemper.

The Guild is planning to hold a series of monthly Home Cooking Sales the first Saturday of each month, Feb. 6th, being the first.

Mrs. G. F. Kemper was appointed convener of a committee to choose a play for members of the Guild to put on some time in March.

By a unanimous vote, it was decided to curtail somewhat, the activities of the Sunshine Committee and keep funds in reserve for any emergency. Mrs. R. H. Bishop was re-appointed as convener.

Membership fee for the present year is $1.00 as in previous years.

Through the efforts of the Missionary Committee, old linens are being collected for hospitals. Donations may be left with Mrs. T. S. Board, con-

A University Education

The other day we were reading in a late issue of a university periodical and discovered an address by W. Hamilton Fyfe, Principal of Queen's. The subject of his address was, "The Object of a University Education." It was delivered at the Charter Day Exercises, Victoria University, Toronto, on October 23rd, 1931. We reproduce excerpts from it.

There are many criteria of a good education. One of the best, I think, is appreciation. The object of education is to widen, as it can widen almost infinitely, the scope and variety of appreciation to add to the human store of pleasure and of interest.

It is too often presumed that the chief function of a University is to produce professional men, men so trained in one field of study that they can immediately perform a job and earn a salary in one of the professions. The means to such an end are known as "useful knowledge." I think it truer to say that no knowledge is useful unless it retains its use in any sphere of life; and the function of a University is to produce men who will carry into any profession, trade or occupation the appreciation of truth, of beauty and of human character which they have acquired during their College course. In short, the chief aim of a University education is not professional but cultural.

"We shall never exercise depression until the motive of personal profit is replaced by the motive of interest and appreciation which makes work of any kind a joy and an adventure.

"Professionalism is the poison of education as well as of sport. The value of both lies in the by-products.

"We need the efficiency which comes through culture as I have endeavored to define it, the efficiency that is born of knowledge, wide appreciation and an interest in human character. Those are the proper output of a University and we certainly cannot have too many of them in our country whether they work in collars or in corduroy. I am all for University education for everyone who is able and willing to profit by it, and the rigid exclusion of all who are not.

Pneumonia

Pneumonia is one of the most serious and most fatal of the acute diseases. In this country, it is responsible for over eight thousand deaths each year, a higher death-rate than that of tuberculosis.

The term pneumonia means inflammation of the lungs, and it is used to include several forms of the disease which have one thing in common, congestion and solidification of one part of the lung.

The onset of pneumonia is sudden, a sudden chill, lasting from fifteen to thirty minutes or more, then fever, difficulty in breathing, and a dry cough, with pain in the chest which may be severe. The doctor should be called, without delay, when such symptoms occur.

The disease occurs as the result of the activity of a germ. It appears that the germ is wide spread, and that the chances of its causing disease are tremendously increased if, for one reason or another, the general fitness of the body has been lowered.

Pneumonia is more prevalent in the cities than in the country. This may be due to the overcrowding and to the lower standards of living which are found in the city, and these mean greater chance of spread for the germ and the lowering of physical fitness. Pneumonia reaches its height during the winter, and so is associated, in our minds, with cold. Cold, in itself, does not cause the disease but exposure to cold, and other hardships favor the occurrence of pneumonia.

Children who have been weakened by disease infrequently fall victims to pneumonia. Measles and whooping cough are serious diseases for many reasons, one of which is the frequency with which they are followed by a fatal pneumonia.

Pneumonia also leaves its trail in the damages which it causes to the bodies of those who recover from an attack. As an example, the heart may suffer from the poison given off by the germs of pneumonia.

The prevention of pneumonia begins with keeping the body in good physical condition. The need for proper diet, fresh air and exercise continues the year round. The body should not be chilled by exposure to cold. Damp clothing and wet feet should be avoided. Overheated rooms cause excessive perspiration; the clothing then becomes damp and the body is chilled when the individual goes out of doors. The regulation of the heat of rooms and the avoidance of over-clothing are real health measures.

Colds should be avoided, but if they occur, they should not be neglected. The neglected cold has an unfortunate way of spreading down into the lungs and causing pneumonia. Persons who are suffering from colds and coughs should be avoided. It, notwithstanding precautions, a cold does occur, it is better to spend one or two days in bed than to run the risk of developing pneumonia.

The child who has been ill, particularly with measles or whooping cough, requires special care, not only during the course of the disease, but throughout convalescence as well, so that he may not be exposed to the dangers of pneumonia.

Safeguard yourself against pneumonia by paying attention to your general health.

Arrowwood Bonspiel Ends Wednesday

he got the wick his rock rolled out leaving Beagle laying two and winning 8-10.

D. J. Beagle and Bowman's game at 9 p.m. on the opening day of the Bonspiel was any-ones game until the last end, Beagle winning by 11-12.

That Old War Horse, Dan McDonald from Gleichen made the Chrestenson rink step out to win their game on the 12 o'clock draw Friday, and several times during the game it looked as though he would score a big end. On the 10th end McDonald was laying 5 when Chrestenson went down to play his last rock. He played a wick and roll in cutting McDonald out of 5 and laying one himself.

On the 11th end McDonald was laying one and in trying to take out Chrestenson's second shot, was narrow of the broom and raised one of his opponents rocks onto his shot rock and giving them two. This was about the only break in the game and had Dan passed this up they would have tied on the 12th end. Practically every shot in the points competition was played in this game.

Ernest Norton's second game went into an extra end against Large from Queenstown. The young Spare Rib came through nobly in the extra stanza, winning 9-8.

D. J. Beagle was forced all the way to win from E. C. Bowman, 11-12, in the long draw of the Merchants.

Chris. McIrvine's rink lost out by one point to Jack Beagle in the eight's of the Merchants. This was any ones game all the way through, winding up with a 10-9 score for the Mayor. In the next game His Worship stepped out and gave the Chrestenson rink a hiding that the merchants will remember for a time and followed it up by beating Cook's aggregation to win the finals of this competition.

Smith's game with Chrestenson in the eights of the Grand Challenge was close, the game being tied four times. Chrestenson could have broken the tie on the last end with his last rock but was a half inch short losing the game 9-8.

Cook of Mossleigh was just two points too good for the Vets. of Gleichen in the Merchants winning from them 12-10.

Smith had another tough battle to win from Lewendon in the eights of the Merchants and only managed to nose out by a score of 10-9.

Hales was a little too good for the Sky Pilots from Gleichen in the eights of the Grand Challenge winning 13-10. The Ministers and their lead played a fine game and proved that they were all curlers.

Miller from Queenstown did not get going till his third game his first game in the consolation. From then on he made the boys sit up and take notice by winning four in a row and taking home first prize in this event. With the finals of the consolation Wednesday evening Arrowwood Curlers as a whole were well satisfied with the results of their Bonspiel. Their one regret is that more of the visiting rinks did not win prizes. Good ice, good fellowship and a lot of good curling was the order of the day throughout the spiel. The committee in charge can be complimented for their work in bringing out the draws so well.

It is to be hoped that Arrowwood will be represented by four or five rinks at the Gleichen Bonspiel next week.

To the Wayfarer

Ye who pass by and would raise your hand against me, to karken ere you harm me. I am the heart of your hearth on the cold winter nights; the friendly shade screening you from the summer sun; and my fruits are refreshing draughts quenching your thirst as you journey on.

I am the beam that holds your house, the board of your table, the bed on which you lie, and the timber that builds your boat. I am the handle of your hoe, I am the door of your homestead, the wood of your cradle, and the shell of your coffin.

I am the bread of kindness and the flower of beauty. Ye who pass by listen to my prayer—Harm me not.

The Brockville Recorder in a recent editorial asked Canadian who are figuring on holidaying outside the Dominion this winter to consider the advantages of British Columbia, where the Canadian dollar made at par and where the climate is the equal of any to be found in the United States. Great Britain, the editorial adds, has not the example for Britanians which Canadiana should be patriotic enough to follow.

The high reputation of Canada for the pacific settlement of disputes with foreign nations is an example that exerts considerable influence in the councils of the League of Nations and indicates that the Dominion should play an important part in the coming disarmament conference at London, says Colonel David Carnegie, C. B. E., noted lecturer on the production of peace, who recently visited for Great Britain aboard the Duchess of Richmond.

Beginning their first Canadian tour, the six teams of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, arriving at Halifax by Canadian Pacific steamship Montcalm, went on via Montreal, Lacrosse, Quebec and from there went to the Marguerite in the Laurentians where they will contest against each other and with Canadian universities. The teams were welcomed at the Windsor station, Montreal by Lord Dunsington, of the Governor-General, himself an under-graduate of Cambridge University.

Montreal, Windsor station First Aid Police team are the 1931 Canadian Pacific All-Canada champions having defeated the western champions of Nelson, B.C., by 15½ points in the finale recently decided. The Police team have won every First Aid competition in Canada possible for a police team to win, including the Quebec Provincial championship, the championship of Eastern Canada, and the more recently won, the championship of the police championship of Canada.

It Can be Done

In spite of adverse conditions Arrowwood has just held one of its most successful bonspiels. The prizes for the different events were well distributed through out the districts that entered the bonspiel. Due to the efficient management of the officers and directors, everything moved along without a hitch. To the Sec. Tres. H. E. Hales, a great deal of credit is due in the way he arranged the matches. Here is cheerio to the Arrowwood curling club.

The time of season will soon be rolling around when you will have to be making preparations for the big spring rush. The buying of necessary machinery whether it be new or second hand will be rather slow and conservative. Then there are the necessary repairs that are going to be needed to keep the old machine going.

We suggest that you check over the implements that you intend to use this spring and determine what necessary repairs they will need and advise us; thus giving us the chance to have them here when you want them.

Remember that our service is yours for the asking.

Farming operations must be carried on at a minimum of expense this spring. These expenses are greatly reduced by the number of trips made across your farm. These can all be combined into one trip: your plowing, cultivating, discing, or tilling and seeding can all be efficiently done once over your field with a "Tiller Combine".

The Betz Brothers of North Battleford, Sask. put in their crop at a saving of 87 cents per acre. An enquiry from you and we will be glad to explain the advantageous features of the Cockshutt "Tiller Combine" a tried and proven machine.

Mr. Gaylen Jones used one of these tools last season and there is a better recommendation for a machine than a satisfied user.

How about a small engine to run that fanning mill to clean your grain? We have a reconditioned machine that runs like a new one at less than third the money.
